Mark scheme · 1.9 The Afterlife: Judgement, Heaven and Hell: 10-minute Pack

Question 1

selecting option B, universalism, the belief that all people will finally be reconciled to God, cao B1

Answer: B

Question 2

one image from: a wedding feast or banquet (Revelation 19:9); a city, the new Jerusalem (Revelation 21); paradise or a garden (Luke 23:43); a place of light; a home with many rooms (John 14:2), oe B1

a second, different image from the same list, oe B1

Answer: Any two: a wedding feast; a city (the new Jerusalem); paradise or a garden; a place of light; a home.

Question 3

point 1: earthly wealth and status do not decide what happens after death, and those who ignore the poor may face serious consequences, oe B1

development: in Luke 16:22-23 Lazarus, who was poor and ill at the rich man's gate, is carried by angels to Abraham's side, while the rich man, who had ignored him, is in torment, oe B1

point 2: there is a limit to the chance to change, so a person should act on God's teaching now, oe B1

development: in Luke 16:26 a great chasm is fixed between the two, and in Luke 16:29 Abraham says that the rich man's brothers already have Moses and the Prophets and should listen to them, oe B1

Answer: E.g. wealth does not decide judgement and ignoring the poor has consequences (Luke 16:22-23); people should act on God's teaching while alive (Luke 16:26, 29).

Question 4

point 1: a Christian might try to live a morally good life, treating others well, oe B1

development: e.g. inspired by the sheep and goats teaching (Matthew 25:31-46), a Christian might help those in need, such as volunteering at a food bank, oe B1

point 2: a Christian might find comfort and hope at funerals and in bereavement, oe B1

development: e.g. some Christians, particularly in Catholic and Orthodox practice, pray for the souls of the dead as an ongoing act of care and solidarity, oe B1

Answer: E.g. living a morally good life inspired by Matthew 25:31-46; comfort/hope at funerals, including praying for the dead in some traditions.
